to be revealed and exposed. This form of tyranny is antithetical to human rights and freedom of expression and must be opposed.

The sheer hypocrisy of seeking to constrain the voices of all Aussies online via some unelected Ministry of Truth is astounding. One thing I'll tell you for free, as a person who has spent a lot of my life fact checking, is that rarely is there consensus (sometimes even about things as concrete as dates or stats), and even when there is, new evidence can always overturn them - but only in a society where freedom of thought and expression are encouraged and valued, not crippled by government interference.

This push for ACMA to silence people online with hefty fines just for disagreeing with the highly curated status quo demonstrates that we all need voices, but what we need more in this country is a Bill of Rights that protects this single, crucial right that underpins a free state: the right to criticise oppressive, corrupt governments who don't value human rights and line their pockets while their people lose their homes due to out of control inflation caused by the Recently a US judge ruled the Biden gov't's direct communication with Facebook violated free speech. In his conclusion, the judge quoted the late Democrat president Harry Truman: "Once a government is committed to the principle of silencing the voice of opposition, it has only one place to go, and that is down the path of increasingly repressive measures, until it becomes a source of terror to all its citizens and creates a country where everyone lives in fear."

And now here in Australia the Albanese government is pushing a bill to allow our own 'Ministry of Truth' to control what every Australian can say online EXCEPT his government. With huge fines for 'dissenters' deemed to post 'disinformation' or 'misinformation' - no matter how TRUE it actually is! This will only worsen the existing problem of government lies, corruption and propaganda that we see in western democracies now with their 'state run' media a mouthpiece for agendas, resets and admitted 'narratives' that must be able to be revealed and exposed. This form of tyranny is antithetical to human rights and freedom of expression and must be opposed.
