Dear Misinformation Bill Review,

The "Misinformation Bill" must be rejected.

Freedom of speech is a central value of our nation, I learned this all throughout primary and secondary school. Therefore it is imperative that this value stands firm, particularly for the sake of our next generation. I am a concerned Australian woman and I believe this Misinformation Bill needs to be rejected so our beautiful nation can move towards better things and the truth can be spoken freely.

Freedom of speech is the bedrock of a free and fair society. It is a fundamental value of Australia. Despite denials to the contrary, the proposed bill will erode this fundamental human right.

Freedom of speech is essential in attempting to discover truth. The whole process of discovery relies on free-flowing information that can be tested and questioned. There are many instances when society or the government of the day has held to a position or scientific idea, only to have it thrown out years later. The proposed bill will effectively halt this essential dialogue.

The internet has become the 'town square' where the latest ideas can be debated. Now people can send factual information around the world in an instant, as well as spread false ideas. There are positives and negatives to modern technology. But setting up the government as the arbiter of truth is not the answer.

The proposed bill would do incredible damage and must be thrown out.
