

Dear government,

Please do not pass this proposed bill.

It is irrational to claim to “protect democracy” by imposing censorship and limiting free expression of personal opinions and beliefs. This bill would put you in the same category as communist governments and other repressive regimes in trying to impose uniformity on the thinking of the entire society. You would be attempting to force us all to read only opinions that agreed with the government’s position, on everything. Do you really believe that the government is infallible? That every current government policy and position is now and for all time true, perfect and correct? That your government cannot make mistakes? Have you forgotten that all of you in government are human, and therefore not perfect?

Please do not remove our right to free speech!

Kind regards,
Jennifer Humphreys

Sent from my iPad