It would be awesome to see the industry move to a paperless system, EFB is starting to pick up in Australia and me as a student pilot have started to see its benefits less paper, cheaper costs easier to use. Would also like to see efb being allowed on training flights and removing all the unnecessary charts and maps pile up in the cockpit