

Fails to understand the importance of general aviation and the need to grow the sector. Pushes for even more restrictions that continue to stifle growth