

Published name

Angela Gorman

Short comment

ASA needs to be independent from airlines and also needs to be independent from the government with real ability to demand change and protect communities. They currently cannot do anything and the minister responsible ignores complaints. There are no protections or safer guards for communities and this is a failure of regulation and duty of care