

Modify section 8, part (1)(c) to insert religious in order for it to say, "the general character of the material (including whether it is of medical, legal, religious or scientific character)."

Religious views can at times be offensive to people when others share their faith with them. When people share their faith online or anywhere else, it is out of love for the individual, even if at times for whatever reason someone can get offended. I think it is important that this is made clear, that sharing one's faith online will not be hindered by this bill.
