
Julian Garner

I've been a professional actor in Australia for the last 30 years. One thing that I've been proud of, and that has benefited me and our industry has been the 'quota content' rules that were established decades ago. It stood us apart from other nations that didn't seem to care about looking after their members or telling their own stories. We have a unique trove of stories, from all walks of life and cultures here that may not get the chance to be seen or heard if it disappears, let alone the financial benefits to the industry and the country as a whole.

I wish for my submission to be anonymous: No

I wish for my submission to be private: No

This submission has been lodged via the Media, Entertainment & Arts Alliance.