

RVS Consultation Submission 27

To Whom it may Concern,

The new ruling that has been written is not supporting in any means, to our industry.

I myself, have been working within the Imported Vehicles industry for the last 14 years, my wife also.

I have instilled my working life to this industry and have solely relied upon since I began as it is not only a large interest for myself but also it is my only knowledgeable field.

Whilst being in this industry, I have had 4 children that my business being Vehicle Imports, supports.

As I have now remarried, the income I receive from my business helps to support my children and my new wife who is expecting a child.

If these changes are made, I will not be able to provide for my family as the changes will dramatically reduce what I can now do with my business in order to provide.

The changes are not realistic and will make the import industry suffer dramatically and many honorable men and women will lose and have their current business that they have built their life around to support themselves and their family's almost supersede due to these changes.

I believe, with such a large number of people within the industry to have their lives and businesses ripped from underneath them, this will ruin the lives of many

Kind Regards,
