RE: Proposed changes to the Road Vehicle Standards Legislation

After attending one of the Road Vehicle Standards Legislation Public Consultation Seminars, I wish to say:-

- I have a family tow truck transport business which relies on income from second hand vehicle imports, with at least 95% of income coming from those vehicles.
- With the changes to the SEVS criteria reducing the current SEVS models by 75% this will have a severe impact on my main income. Should the proposed changes be passed, the changes and subsequent huge financial burden to my customers will in turn significantly affect my business to the point of the business struggling to survive. This will cause financial difficulty to my family.
- I recommend that the Government review the rules to allow more vehicle models and variants for import to Australia.

Yours faithfully
