Whom it may concern

I am giving you what I think should happen with cars in Australia

1. All new cars coming in with importers as they are now up to 5 years old under dealer systems
2. All cars from 5 years to 10 years under RAWS system
3. All vehicles after 10 years come in under the ADR for the year of vehicle model coming in built date and inspected same system as NEW ZEALAND see point 4
4. All vehicles imported under full volume have to sell minimum 300 cars to qualify full volume of that model vehicle per year
5. Enthusiast cars were limited production of the vehicle model when new can be brought in under ADR rules for year of production inspected same as NEW ZEALAND
6. Back dated to when 89 rules was introduced

Many thanxs
